3 Effectiveness of the General Terms and Conditions

The client accepts these general terms and conditions by placing the order. The contract is concluded exclusively on the basis of these General Terms and Conditions. Other contracts do not apply, even if individual regulations are not included in these General Terms and Conditions of the Guide.

4 Changes, Additions, Collateral Agreements to the Service

The type and scope of the contractual services result from the service description in the order confirmation.

Changes, additions or subsidiary agreements must be made in writing in any case.

The Contractor expressly reserves the right to declare a change in the specifications if unavoidable reasons make it necessary. The client will be informed of this in writing without delay. The amount of the agreed fee is not affected by this.

The indication of the duration of the tour is an approximate value based on the knowledge of the contractor. Depending on the size of the group or other circumstances, deviations from this time specification are possible. The client undertakes to take this into account when planning follow-up appointments and the like.

5 Waiting time Tour Guide

The tour guide waits for the guests for a maximum of 30 minutes (without counter report from the client). Late reports will be accepted by telephone.

6 Withdrawal by the contractor

If, due to compelling reasons, another guide is required as a substitute to carry out the agreed tour at the agreed conditions, the client will be consulted.

In the event of force majeure (sudden storm, thunderstorm, hurricane, etc.), the contractor may withdraw from or cancel the agreed service. For services already rendered, the fee is owed proportionately.

In case of illness, the contractor is entitled to withdraw. The Contractor shall endeavor to find a replacement, but shall not be liable for finding a replacement. Claims of the client are excluded. The fee is not owed in this case.

If a security situation endangering life and limb develops in the country/city/place to be traveled during an agreed tour/travel escort (of a political nature, military unrest, diseases such as outbreaks of epidemics/pandemics), the contractor is entitled to withdraw from the contract. In this case, replacement procurement is not owed.

In particular, the client undertakes to inform the contractor in good time before the start of the tour of any special features of the group profile (e.g. walking and visual impairments, etc.).
